

A vertex is a special kind of point that describes the corners or intersections of geometric shapes as shown below.

