

In Math, round means a type of estimation with specific rules for determining the closest value.