Hint

- Remember that in order to generate an equivalent expression, students must use the distributive property in some fashion. In other words, they would multiply by the addends inside parenthesis, as it is the same as multiplying by the sum of the addends.