

Hint

- Keep in mind that if the inequality consists of less than or equal to, the highest possible result will be the starting point on the number line. It will be represented by a closed circle on that point. Use an arrow to represent other possible solutions.