

An integer is a number that is written as a whole number, but can have either a positive or negative value as shown below.

2 456 -18